Warsaw, December, 2, N. S.

SINCE the Arrival of the Court of Saxony, are come hither the Bishop of Cujavia, the Palatin of Sendomir, the Palatin of Culm; and there is News of the Bishop of Plosk's being got as far as Plosk in his Way from Dantzick, with the Prince Abbe Czartorinski; so that they are expected daily. The Palatins of Mazovia and Russia have written, that they will set out for this Place as soon as the Wife of the latter is brought to Bed. The Marshal Belinski was upon the Road, but obliged to return, not being able to pass the Vistula by reason of the Ice. General Lacy has had several Conferences with the Saxon, Imperial, and Russian Ministers, to settle the Quarters of the Troops for the Ease of the Country and the Service of King Augustus: He returns to Pultush To-morrow, and will soon march with a Body of Forces towards Lublin. Notice has been given by the Grand Marshal of Lithuania Prince Sangusko, in the Name of the King and Council, to the French Ambassadour's Secretaries, to retire forthwith from Warsaw; whereupon they acquainted the Dutch Ambassadour and his Britannick Majesty's Envoy of it, not pretending to refuse complying with the Intimation, but only wishing to have Time to inform the Ambassadour of it, and receive his Orders about his Effects and his other Domesticks; whereupon those Ministers advised them to go to the said Great Marshal and propose it to him; which they did, and he charged himself with representing their Demand to the King and Council.

Hague, Dec. 21, N. S. We had an Account this Morning from the Austrian Netherlands, that the Prince and Princess of Orange lay at Grimberg last Night, and were expected this Day at Antwerp, where it was thought they would rest To-morrow, and proceed the Day after for Moerdyk; to which Place two Yachts were ordered this Morning, with Officers, Servants, and necessary Provisions.
